

PHILIPPINES ARE INVADED

BORDER TOWN CAPTURED IN EAST PRUSSIA

OFFENSIVE BACKED BY 500 TANKS ROLLS AHEAD

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—A massive Red army, poised for two months at the East Prussian frontier, has invaded pre-war Germany for the first time, smashing several miles into the Reich fortress and capturing the border town of Eydtkau, 37 miles from strategic Insterburg in a still-rolling offensive, Berlin announced officially tonight.

The Russians were backed by 500 tanks and hundreds of big guns which laid down an overwhelming barrage. They possessed "unheard of numerical superiority," and were supported at both ends of a flaming 200-mile front by two other huge armies attacking on the northern and southern sides of the imperilled Junker homeland, Berlin said.

In Last Stage

Moscow's communique was silent about the East Prussian front, where the Germans said the Russians had been attacking for three days, but the Soviet radio declared "the war has entered its final stage."

The broadcast bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor told of fresh Soviet gains in invaded Czechoslovakia and Hungary. In five days ending Wednesday the Russians captured more than 1,000 Germans and Hungarians, and during Wednesday they took 5,000 German prisoners southeast of embattled Belgrade, Yugoslav capital, it said.

Belgrade itself was on the verge of being captured as the Russians and Marshal Tito's Partisans pressed the savagely resisting enemy back into a small part of the city.

Toughest Defenses Pierced

Led by the brilliant 37-year-old Jewish tank expert, Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky, troops of the Third White Russian army swept over Eydtkau, a half mile across the Luthuanian border on the Kaunas-Konigsberg highway, crashing through some of the toughest fortifications in the east in a steady drive toward Konigsberg, East Prussian capital 110 miles beyond in the lake-dotted and forested province.

It was the first time in 30 years that Russian troops had invaded Germany. In 1914 czarist armies entered East Prussia along the same Kaunas-Konigsberg highway and also in the south in the Masurian lake area. The famous battle of Tannenberg followed, and the Russians were crushed and routed by Von Hindenburg.

On the north, Gen. Ivan C. Bagration's First Baltic army struck along the frontier of German-annexed Memel territory, and on the south Gen. G. F. Zakharov's Second White Russian army lashed out on a 65-mile front above Warsaw, beyond the Narw river in northern Poland between Serock and Nowagrad.

We'll Teach Japan Her Lesson Now, Roosevelt Says

Washington, Oct. 20 (Friday) (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's drive into the Philippines redeemed the pledge made when American troops surrendered on Corregidor two years ago and marked another "way station on the road to Japan."

"We promised to return, we have returned," Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement issued minutes after news of MacArthur's landings on the island of Leyte was flashed from the Southwest Pacific.

Promising freedom to the Philippine Islands as soon as the Japanese invader had been driven out, the president said:

"We have learned our lesson about Japan. We trusted her and treated her with the decency due a civilized neighbor. We were foully betrayed. The price of the lesson was high."

"Now we are going to teach Japan her lesson. We have the will and the power to teach her the cost of treachery and deceit and the cost of stealing from her neighbors. With our steadfast Allies we shall teach this lesson so that Japan will never forget it."

"We shall free the enslaved peoples. We shall restore stolen lands and looted wealth to their rightful owners. We shall strangle the black dragon of Japanese militarism forever."

Mr. Roosevelt messaged MacArthur that "you have the nation's gratitude and the nation's prayers for success as you and your men fight your way back to Bataan."

"The whole American nation today exults at the news that the gallant men under your command have landed on Philippine soil."

STORM WRECKS CUBAN SEAPORT

Dead Estimated At 24; Havana Hardest Hit; Food Runs Short

Havana, Oct. 19 (AP)—Surgidero De Batabano, south Cuban coastal port built on lowlands and over water, was destroyed by yesterday's hurricane, and its fishing fleet of more than 20 schooners driven as much as half a mile inland, reports from the hard-hit area said tonight.

While tabulations rose to an estimated 24 dead, and U. S. authorities began planning a relief expedition to stricken parts of the island, it appeared that the Isle of Pines, although badly buffeted, had escaped heavy damage.

The tiny island, to the south of Cuba, has a population of 10,000 and extensive North American interests. The principal city, Nueva Gerona, reported fallen trees and damaged houses, but devastation generally was less than expected.

A Pan American Clipper, carrying government officials on a relief survey, found that Havana and its environs apparently had been hardest hit, although all of western Cuba is expected to face a food shortage. United States help already has been offered by Ambassador Braden.

Associated Press Correspondent Guillermo Rodriguez reported after a tour of the outlying regions that 50 per cent of the crops were destroyed, and 90 per cent of the tobacco warehouses damaged. Heaviest property damage, he said, was in western Pinar Del Rio.

All U. S. residents in Havana were reported safe and uninjured.

Liberty Bell Crack Welding Proposal Congress' Problem

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Right in the midst of election battling plopped another hot issue for congress today—should the crack in the liberty bell be welded?

The suggestion that the bell be repaired came from W. J. Conley, consulting engineer for the Lincoln Electric company, Cleveland. Nothing official can be done about Conley's idea until congress reconvenes Nov. 14, but indications are that debate will ring louder than the old bell did when it cracked in 1835.

The bell has long been enshrined in an honored resting place in Independence Hall, Philadelphia.

BETTE AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Film Star Bette Davis had tea with President Roosevelt late today. She had nothing to say to reporters about her visit.

Crop Loss $20,000,000 In Florida Hurricane

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP)—A Caribbean-born hurricane moving up the Atlantic seaboard lashed the South Carolina coast tonight after cutting a path of destruction across Florida.

Whole gale winds of 65 miles an hour disrupted power service in Charleston, S. C., plunging the city into darkness, but no casualties or serious property damage were reported.

Water a foot deep flooded lower sections of the city, particularly along the Battery, as the tide reached nine feet.

The Washington weather bureau, in a 9:30 p. m. (EWT) advisory, said the hurricane was centered a short distance off the coast of Savannah, Ga., moving north northeastward or northward about 25 miles an hour.

"Abnormally high" winds will accompany the hurricane winds ahead of the storm center along the coast south of Cape Hatteras, N. C., the advisory said, but probably will subside with passage of the core of the disturbance.

The hurricane, which moved into the Gulf of Mexico from Cuba, left two persons dead in Miami, Fla., and caused an estimated $20,000,000 damage to the state's citrus crop.

The Miami dead included an unidentified enlisted seaman, who was killed when his motorcycle crashed into the main gate of the Miami naval station before dawn today.

Earlier a night watchman, Ronnie Tobias Mangrams, 69, was electrocuted when a 23,000-volt power line fell on him.

Diggs May Appeal Graft Conviction; Freed From Prison

Lansing, Oct. 19 (AP)—The supreme court today granted former State Senator Charles C. Diggs permission to appeal his conviction on charges of participating in a legislative graft conspiracy. It also authorized his release from prison on bond pending disposition of the appeal.

Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler, in a brief filed with the court today, declared he did not oppose Diggs' release and wanted to impose no "undue hardship" on him or any of 19 other defendants convicted with him of having entered a conspiracy to corrupt the legislature by giving and taking bribes.

Harold E. Bledsoe, Diggs' counsel, told the court it was his fault and not his client's that the statutory time for appealing was allowed to elapse before appeal, resulting in the commitment of Diggs to prison on October 2.

Season's Gunshot Fatalities Now 11

Hillsdale, Mich., Oct. 19 (AP)—Report of the death of 15-year-old Gayle Hermann of Quincy brought to 11 today the toll of gunshot fatalities in the five-day, small game hunting season. Eight of the 11 were youths 17 years old or younger.

Hermann had just returned from a hunting trip last night and his gun was being inspected by Ray Brown, a friend, when it was accidentally discharged, wounding Hermann fatally. Yesterday was Hermann's 15th birthday.

Winds of 60 to 70 miles an hour accompanied the storm's passage over Jacksonville. Numerous plate glass windows were broken and trees uprooted. Shipyard workers were permitted to leave their jobs before the storm struck. Schools also were dismissed.

The citrus loss estimate came from Gaynor Wiggins, secretary-treasurer of an Orlando company. He said the grapefruit crop loss might be from 40 to 60 per cent and the orange crop damage 15 to 20 per cent.

SWEDEN SIGHTS ROCKET PLANES

Small Town In England Has One Of Its Worst Blows Of War

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—Reports that rockets or robot planes were sighted over southern Sweden today caused speculation in London on the possibility that the Nazis were developing a new long distance vengeance weapon which could be launched against England from German soil.

The Swedish advice were received as heavy casualties were reported from a small town in southern England which suffered one of its worst blows of the war from flying bomb attacks launched against southern England for eight successive nights.

Specific details were lacking in the Swedish report, originating in Stockholm, but it was believed the robots may have been launched from the Nazi experimental station of Penemunde on the Baltic coast.

It is believed generally in London that the Allied cleanup of Germans in Holland will bring an end to bombardment by remote control by present "V" weapons, except for those which can be borne to within striking distance by planes.

The small scale resurgence of robot raids has caused damage and deaths and sleepless hours, but thanks to perfected defenses and longer distances the toll has been limited to only a fraction of that at the height of the attacks last summer.

Chinese Take Town North Of Kweilin; Nipponese Retreat

Chungking, Oct. 19 (AP)—The semi-official Chinese agency newspaper said today that Chinese troops had recaptured Tajungkiang, a town 23 miles north of Kweilin province capital of Kweilin, and that the retreating Japanese were being pursued northward.

There was no confirmation from the Chinese high command, whose latest communique indicated about 12 miles north of Kweilin had been achieved as the result of an enemy column push to positions about 12 miles southwest of the Hunan-Kwangsi railway town of Hingzan. Fighting ensued there and was continuing yesterday morning, the communique added.

PATH BLASTED FOR BIG PUSH ON RHINELAND

NAZIS GET NO REST AFTER DEFEAT AT VENRAY

BY HOWARD COWAN

London, Friday, Oct. 20 (AP)—Canadian troops accelerated their drive against German pockets in the Schelde estuary of Holland yesterday, one column bursting forward three miles, and last night the Berlin radio blurted out fresh speculation on the imminence of an all-out Allied assault across the Dutch-German frontier.

Late reports said the Canadians were fighting inside the Brekens, just across the estuary from flooded Walcheren Island, while another Canadian column splashed through the marshes three miles to within one mile of Oostburg, squarely in the center of the pocket.

Knockout Blow Predicted This action was part of the determined effort to clear away German forces blocking the Schelde river leading to Antwerp and German military spokesmen have repeatedly maintained that a British-American "knockout blow" would be attempted somewhere between Aachen and Arnhem as soon as the Antwerp supply channel was opened to General Eisenhower.

But German broadcasts last night said Eisenhower might not even wait for the Belgian port to become available before launching a new assault. One propagandist even predicted a new seaborne invasion in the vicinity of Rotterdam.

The Canadians were making steady progress, but in some cases meeting desperate opposition. German troops counterattacked fiercely against Lt. Gen. H. D. Crear's units on the three-mile wide spit of land stretching out to Walcheren and front dispatches said some of the enemy had won a foothold in the north edge of Woensdrecht.

Germans Retreating British troops advancing southward from captured Venray ploughed 3 1/2 miles deeper into the German Maas river bridgehead in Holland and with a strong American force converged upon the key town of Amerika, astride one of the main railroads leading eastward into Germany's northern Rhineland.

The Germans, given no respite after their costly defeat at Venray and faced with possible entrapment on the Maas west bank, began hastily retreating from strong positions northwest of Venray, and to the south and southwest fell back before powerful American and British drives. It was the eighth day of an Allied offensive to eliminate the German Maas salient and prepare the ground for a big smash into the northern Siegfried line.

Aachen Holds Out The British drove to points approximately three miles north of Amerika, while American forces pushing steadily eastward from the Durne area continued to roll across the Durne canal and stood about the same distance west of the town.

MacArthur Makes Good 1942 Promise Of "I Shall Return"; Yanks Set For Showdown

BY RAY CRONIN

Associated Press War Editor

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced from "headquarters in the Philippines" last night that an invasion launched in the central Philippines had secured the eastern coast of Leyte Island and that troops were widening their beachheads.

In a dramatic special communique the general declared the landings had been made under cover of aerial and naval bombardment "devastating in effect." Eye-witness reports said it was so thunderous that the Japanese fleet had not appeared.

Enemy Surprised

"In a major amphibious operation," the communique said, "we have seized the eastern coast of Leyte Island in the Philippines, 600 miles north of Morotai and 2,500 miles from Milne Bay from whence our offensive started nearly 16 months ago."

Thus the general announced the beginning of an attack which redeems his pledge—"I will return"—made two and a half years ago when he escaped from besieged Corregidor.

INDIAN TROOPS OCCUPY TIDDIM

Key Tokyo Troop Base In Burma Falls In Long Struggle

Southeast Asia Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, Oct. 19 (AP)—The important northwest Burma town of Tiddim has been captured by Indian troops after an air attack which smashed Japanese defense covering the northern approaches, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's command announced today.

Fall of the base from which the Japanese launched their unsuccessful invasion of India early this year came after months of heavy fighting in the first determined Japanese stand in this theater since the action at Bishenpur, India, last spring.

Communicate announcing the collapse of Tiddim asserted that the Allied forces were now in contact with the enemy south of Tiddim, along the Japanese escape route. Fate of the Japanese garrison was not reported immediately.

The Japanese had held positions in the Tiddim - Fort White area since November, 1943, building it as a supply base. Tiddim stands at the southern end of the road to Imphal and Kohima, 20 miles from the India-Burma border.

Fire Wrecks Dairy Plant At Palmyra

Adrian, Oct. 19 (AP)—A fire of unknown origin today destroyed from 50 to 60 head of cattle, three barns, 25 milk delivery trucks, and two tractors.

Howard Driggs, owner of the Driggs Dairy company farm near Palmyra where the blaze occurred, said that milk deliveries were continuing on schedule. Cows saved from the fire were being milked on neighboring farms.

He declined to estimate the damage.

Editor's Note: This is the 33rd of the Ernie Pyle war dispatches that are being reprinted during Ernie's leave of absence. In it he tells of the start of the invasion of Sicily.

With the U. S. Navy In The Mediterranean, July, 1943—As long as this ship of ours sails the high seas, even after every member of the present crew has been transferred away, I'm sure the story of the searchlights will linger on in the wardroom—and forecastle like a written legend.

It is the story of a few minutes when the fate of this ship hung upon the whim of the enemy. For some reason which we probably will never know the command to obliterate us was never given. Our great, bad moment occurred just as we had ended our long invasion voyage from North Africa and stopped at our designated place off the south coast of Sicily. Our ship was about three and a half miles from shore, which in the world of big guns is practically hanging in the cannon muzzle. Two or three smaller ships were in closer than we but the bulk of our invasion fleet stood far out to sea behind us. Our Admiral had the reputation of always getting up close where he could have a hand in the shooting, and he certainly ran true to form throughout this invasion.

We'd been stopped only a minute when big searchlights blinked on from the shore and began to search the waters. Apparently the watchers ashore had heard some sounds at sea. The lights swept back and forth across the dark water and after a few exploratory sweeps one of them centered dead upon us and stopped. Then as we held our breaths the searchlights, one by one, came down with their beams upon our ship. They had found their mark. All five of them stretching out

CARRIER TASK FORCE RAKES MANILA AREA

RAIDERS BAG 6 JAP SHIPS AND 99 WARPLANES

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 19 (AP)—Halsey-Mitcher carrier forces renewed their relentless attacks on the Manila area October 16, 17 and 18 and bagged an additional 99 airplanes, sank six ships and damaged 23.

These figures, announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in a communique tonight, increased the destruction on the Japanese since October 9 through October 18 to 1,333 plus planes, 86 ships sunk and 127 ships damaged in the Ryukyus, Formosa and the Philippines.

In addition, 75 small craft were destroyed and 80 damaged.

Air Power Crippled Most important currently is the neutralization of Japanese airfields in the Philippines, particularly the Manila area.

With Gen. Douglas MacArthur reporting landings on Leyte in the central Philippines, the steady Halsey-Mitcher poundings would prevent the Japanese from counterattacking by sea and air.

Japanese air power must be virtually eliminated from the entire Philippines, with Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr.'s planes keeping the Manila airfields knocked out and MacArthur's Liberators steadily pounding Mindanao bases in the south.

Demonstrating contempt for Japanese efforts to keep aircraft trickling onto the northern Philippines, Nimitz reported the fleet "continued to attack whatever enemy aircraft and shipping could still be found in the Manila area."

Inflicting the greatest cost possible, pilots heavily bombed hangars and ground installations at Clark Field, north of Manila, and Nichols, near the city.

Land-based Mitchells, Corsairs and Dauntless dive-bombers meanwhile bombed Nauru, Ponape, and by-passed Marshalls Islands, including Jaluit.

Back-to-work Edict Ignored In Detroit Warplant Walkouts

Detroit, Oct. 19 (AP)—Production of machine guns, plane engine and tank parts in three Kelsey-Hayes plants in the Detroit area remained at a standstill, with 6,500 workers on strike, tonight as officers of United Automobile Workers (CIO) Local 174 headed for Washington to attend a National War Labor board hearing.

The officers were summoned by the WLB to appear unless the strikes were ended immediately. Heading the union delegation were Edward Cote, president of the local, and Harry Southwell, vice-president. Percy Llewellyn, UAW-CIO west side regional director, was in Washington and also planned to attend the hearing.

The Kelsey-Hayes employees have ignored back-to-work orders from the regional and national WLB and from their own international union officials, who threatened "drastic action" against the strikers.

BOOST ELECTION WORKERS' PAY

Council Votes $1,000 To United War Fund Campaign

Prospects of one of the largest turnouts of voters in recent years for the November election prompted the city council at its regular meeting last night to boost the pay of election workers to $12 for clerks and inspectors and $6 for the gatekeeper.

The council voted a contribution of $1,000 to the Delta county War Fund drive, $250 of which will come from the civic advancement fund and which was previously earmarked, the balance coming from the contingent fund.

A request for a contribution from M. D. Jensen, war fund chairman, asked for $1,300, but council members voted against giving more than was allotted last year. The city manager was authorized to complete a transaction with John C. Coyne who will purchase the building he occupies on Stephenson avenue. Included in the deal is the lot on which the structure stands and three adjacent lots. The consideration will be $5,000.

A report by City Manager George Bean relative to future central steam heating possibilities was voted into the records and was placed on file. A motion commending Mr. Bean for his work in making up the report was passed unanimously.

A new taxicab ordinance was introduced in title which will give the city power to more satisfactorily regulate such enterprises. Request from the Delta County Democratic committee to place political advertising banners across Ludington street was tabled without action.

SCHOOL MUSIC LEADERS PLAN

Festivals To Be Revived In Upper Peninsula After War

T. Raymond Uhlinger, director of music in the Iron Mountain schools, has been named chairman of District One, comprising the Upper Peninsula, of the Michigan School Vocal, and School Band and Orchestra associations, members of which are vocal and instrumental teachers in schools of the state.

An objective is the improvement of the quality of music education in the schools while improving the status of the members. Emphasis this year will be placed on school festivals and on music study centers.

Sectional Chairmen

Sectional chairmen have been appointed by Uhlinger as follows: Earl Thomas, vocal, and Isabelle Springer, instrumental, representing Mackinac, Chippewa and Luce counties; Margaret Johnson, vocal, and Paul Bowers, instrumental, Schoolcraft, Alger and Delta; Norma Ross, vocal, and Walter Daley, instrumental, Menominee, Dickinson and Marquette; Christina Greer, vocal, and Virgil Wensel, instrumental, Ontonagon, Gobeic and Iron, and Curtis Glanville, vocal, and Lewis Jacobs, instrumental, Keweenaw, Houghton and Baraga.

All members of the associations, Uhlinger said, stand ready to aid smaller schools, which have had to curtail music programs because of the shortage of teachers.

Program Discussed
Program plans were discussed at a meeting of Uhlinger and the music teachers at the MFA session in Escanaba, when it was decided to divide the U. P. into five districts, each in charge of a chairman.

"When conditions again permit unrestricted travel, festivals on a peninsula-wide basis will be held," Uhlinger said.

The faculty of the University of Michigan has offered its services in planning vocal and instrumental teaching clinics. Vocal teachers will attend brief courses in charge of Dr. Clyde Vroman, head of teacher training, University of Michigan school of music; David Mattern, director of the school of music; Miss Hood, supervisor of music in the Ann Arbor schools, and Miss Hyde, president of the Michigan School Vocal association.

MUNISING CITY BUDGET SLICED

Munising—The city commission at their regular Monday meeting lowered the budget for the ensuing year from $58,900, the 1944 figure, to $55,529, a decrease of $3,380. This cut was made possible in part by the lowering of the power rate for the city electricity consumption which will make a saving of approximately $2,700, based on last year's power consumption. The commission early this year had a survey made with other communities in an effort to lower the power rates and action taken on the survey was successful in lowering the rates.

The budget was divided into the following funds:

General fund	$11,729.02
Street fund	$5,730.00
Fire fund	$1,277.00
Water fund	$1,289.44
Police fund	$9,181.17
park and cemetery	$7,275.00
Sinking fund	$6,635.00
Total	$50,707.63
Less anticipated receipts of	$5,178.05
Balance	$45,529.58

While the actual budget calls for $49,707.63, anticipated receipts of $35,183.05, leaves $55,529 to be raised by taxation.

There was also a reduction in the city's valuation of $50,650 which is accounted for by so many servicemen who own property in the city being tax exempt while in service. The state tax commission at a recent hearing requested by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company lowered the company's personal taxes $6,100. This also accounts for the decrease in valuation.

The commission, composed of Mayor Lezotte, Commissioners Nelson and St. Martin, who is absent on military leave, voted the city employees a raise amounting to about six and a half per cent of their base pay, which they said brings the city up to the same wage scale as other communities.

The invasion brought immediate acclamation by President Roosevelt in Washington.

"The whole American nation today exalts at the news that the gallant men under your command have landed on Philippine soil," the president said.

The invasion followed thunderous aerial attacks which Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced last night continued through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Ninety-nine more planes were bagged, six more ships sunk and 23 damaged.

This raised to 1,333 plus the number of Japanese planes wiped out, to $6 the ships sunk and to 127 the ships damaged by carrier forces since Oct. 9 in the Ryukyus, Formosa and Philippines areas.

MacArthur, aboard a warship, went along with the huge convoy from New Guinea, and within four hours after his forces landed began making plans to go ashore.

Striking at a point where he is in position to quickly cut off the island of Luzon, on which Manila is situated from Mindanao on the south, MacArthur poured supplies ashore in preparation for show-down battles with an estimated 225,000 Japanese under Field Marshal Juichi Terachi.

The greatest moment to date in the Pacific war brought immediate acclamation of MacArthur's invasion forces by President Roosevelt in Washington.

"The whole American nation today exalts at the news that the gallant men under your command have landed on Philippine soil," the president said.

On Leyte, a suitable air base island 300 miles southeast of Manila, the invaders secured Tacloban on the northeast end of the island "with small casualties," the communiqué reported.

Tokyo radio also reported landings at Cabalian on the southern tip and said earlier landings occurred at the entrance of Leyte Gulf on Suluan island.

Eyewitness accounts from the scene reported the American navy and airforce were on hand in such mammoth strength that the Japanese navy was nowhere in sight and the Nipponese airforce, knocked out at all airfields in the Philippines, offered scarcely token resistance.

One correspondent said today "up to now no ship has been lost."

T./Sgt. Vernon Francis Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Anderson of 1417 North 22nd street, arrived in Escanaba last Sunday from overseas after serving for 23 months in the China-Burma-India theater of war. He attended Escanaba senior high school, and then March 6, 1941, he enlisted in the U. S. Air Forces at Chanute Field, Ill., where he trained in mechanics. In January, 1942, he volunteered for overseas service. He served in the CBI area with the Flying Tigers and 14th Air Force of Major Gen. Claire N. Chenault. Altogether he has been in service 42 months. When his leave ends he will report to Miami, Fla., for reassignment.

Tax Collections In Escanaba For 1944 Record High

The collection of Escanaba city tax for 1944 set a record high at the close of the October 16 penalty free deadline when a total of $103,090 of a $110,000 levy was reported by City Clerk Carl E. Anderson.

The amount uncollected through October 17 was $6,910, the smallest delinquency in the city history to date.

Last year through October 17 there was a total of $101,134 collected of a $110,000 levy, leaving $8,866 uncollected.

City taxes continue to be payable at the office of the city clerk although a four per cent penalty charge will be assessed. The city council by special action extended the penalty free deadline from September 15 to October 15, as is the usual custom.

Last year's total tax collection of better than 90 per cent was considered an all-time high, but it is expected to be exceeded this year.

The small tax delinquency indicates better economic conditions generally in Escanaba. During the depression years the delinquency ran as high as 30 per cent.

Was It Just Talk?

IN SPITE of early talk about giving our fighting men full representation at the peace table, there is no present indication that the ordinary GI Joe, who has done all of the fighting, as well as all of the dying, will have anything, whatsoever, to say about the terms of peace, when peace day comes. Apparently, as usual, the terms of peace are going to be written by a lot of so-called diplomats, in frock coats, who know all about international law, but very little about sound human relationships between nations.

The Stars and Stripes, the daily published in Paris by and for our fighting men in France, comes forward with this suggestion:

"How about shipping a bunch of Red soldiers to England and the United States? How about furloughing some British Tommies and Yanks to Russia? How about giving a flock of Ivans, Tommies, and GI Joes a chance to get together and swap ideas? (How about letting them sit down over some beer or bitters or vodka or whatever happen to be around and talk over tomorrow?"

The editors in khaki cite the common interests of mankind and the common goals. Very truly, they state that the ordinary fighting men don't know, or care, much about cartels or colonies or international prestige. They do know and care about the problems of human relationships—the kind of problems that can be discussed around a table, with mugs of beer before them. The bonds of fellowship draw the individuals close. So Ivan, and Tommy and GI Joe, might, as Stars and Stripes suggests, "give the right pitch to the guys with the frock coats, striped pants and silk hats."

There's food for thought here. The "guys with the frock coats" that sit around international conference tables and draft treaties and move boundaries are not creatures of their own whims. For the most part, they are intelligent and honest men trying to find a solution that they believe will be acceptable to the government and people of their own nations. If they dare go much farther, even in line with their own convictions, they can only expect repudiation and defeat.

Maybe this is the point where the GI Joes should come into the picture.

Safer Here, But—

COAST GUARD activities have been curtailed at Escanaba and other Great Lakes points, with the official explanation that the men are more urgently needed in other areas.

Most of the Coast Guardsmen will likely be assigned to the Pacific theater as extensive preparations are being made for the all-out assault upon Japanese strongholds. The action also indicates that in official quarters there is more confidence about the security of the home front.

The FBI, Army and Navy intelligence departments, and other federal, state and local police agencies worked in close cooperation even before our entry into the war in combating enemy espionage agents and saboteurs. Many were arrested and put where they could not do any trouble. As a result of their efforts, there has been a surprisingly small amount of sabotage in this country.

The aggressors are steadily being pushed back to their homelands, and so the enemy menace to our shores has been greatly reduced. Here at home we pursue the customary ways of peacetime living, spared from the horrible ravages of war. But we should not delude ourselves. It is not this way in Europe, the Pacific, China and other war theaters where our armed forces are fighting. They are bleeding, dying on the battlefields. And we who are safe at home should remember this, particularly at this time when we are being asked to contribute to the United War Fund to make the life of the service men a little easier.

Research Planned

GOVERNOR KELLY has carried out his promise to do something about finding new uses for wood products with a view toward furnishing economic sustenance to the forest communities of northern Michigan in the postwar era.

Michigan's chief executive used his influence to obtain a $25,000 appropriation from the emergency appropriations commission sometime ago and announced appointment of a five-man committee Wednesday to supervise the research program.

Research will be carried on at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, but assistance will be given by the forestry departments of the University of Michigan and Michigan State College and the state department of conservation.

In various regions of the United States, similar research programs are being instituted. The city of Wichita has a quarter million foundation to make a study of new industrial possibilities. In the South, the various states have organized projects for promoting the economic development of their communities.

There are some pessimistic folks who still paint a dark picture of the Upper Peninsula's future. They could possibly be right if the people of this region adopted a "do nothing" policy, but as long as there are civic-minded citizens who are willing to devote their time, knowledge and effort to creating new opportunities the Upper Peninsula will hold its own and quite likely show progress on the agricultural, industrial and recreational fronts in the years to come.

Fear of Russia

ALTHOUGH the Russians have made our task of defeating Germany much easier and saved many American lives by their valiant defense of their homeland, we still find evidence of fear of Soviet Russia in this country.

There is the often recurring talk of Russia's being the next foe to fight after the defeat of Germany. There is the prevailing suspicion that Russia seeks to swallow all of Europe, and so on. We still fear Russia and suspect her of evil designs.

Oddly enough, the people of Russia also have their fears, according to Henry E. Cassidy, Associated Press war correspondent who has spent many months in Moscow. The Russians fear the Allies, for they still recall the Archangel expedition of World War I. They still harbor those suspicions toward capitalistic nations, which were bred during the early years when their leaders were inculcating Communist ideologies into their hearts and minds.

Mr. Cassidy there still exists much misunderstanding between the Russian and American people. It is this misunderstanding that creates the fears and suspicions that keeps them still far apart.

WASTING THE TREASURE OF HEALTH

(Milwaukee Journal)

The article "Who's to Blame for 4-F's?" printed on this page should deeply alarm every thinking American. It paints the picture of a great, intelligent people who had the wealth, facilities and knowledge to protect the health of its children, but instead neglected to do so, resulting in millions of them to deformity, disease, suffering and unhappiness.

Perhaps the most challenging and shocking statement of all is that of a doctor who served through World War I, when there was also an alarming percentage of draft rejections for preventable physical deficiencies. He says:

"People view with alarm for a while but nothing much was done."

Nothing much was done! Must it be said of us again, 10 or 20 or 30 years from now? Nothing much was done! Why not? Because not enough Americans determined that something must be done.

There is no use trying to pass the buck to the doctors or the schools or any other limited groups. The responsibility rests squarely on the general public, for we all know that doctors, schools and all other agencies that have any part in providing our health services will meet the public demand for such services. If the public demand is insistent and if the people, especially the very tax conscious segment, will somewhere near adequately support a health program financially.

Who's to blame? We, the people!

JAP FLEET STILL HIDES

(Detroit Free Press)

Adm. Halsey's Third Fleet is taking the same liberties with the Japs that Gen. Patton's Third Army took with the Nazis in France.

After attacking Manila and other Jap bases in the Philippines, Adm. Mitscher's carriers have sailed right into the Ryukyu Islands, stepping-stones from Japan to Formosa, within 200 miles or so of the great Japanese home naval base on Kyushu. They blasted 89 enemy planes and 58 surface craft, with only "light" plane loss to themselves.

Apparently Halsey is trying to discover and engage the Jap main fleet. When that has been accomplished the way to China will be free of a major hazard.

The Japs realize this—and are not coming out to meet trouble if they can avoid it.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

From W. M. I., Needham, Mass., comes another "Colby, you're wrong!" comment. He writes: "Recently you used the magnificently ungrammatical 'had better' in your column. Teh, teh; But I am guilty, too, although I know better."

Reader W. M. I. is obviously a man of very good education; and there are many like him who, for some unexplained reason, look upon "had better" as a sin against both syntax and logic.

That "had better; had rather," are incorrect is a superstition that is difficult to put down. I invite my readers to refer to the word HAD, paragraph B, top of page 1123, Webster's New International. It will be seen that such expressions as "had better, had best, had rather" are irreproachable English.

The College Handbook of Composition, by Woolley and Scott (D. C. Heath & Co., New York), an unusually sound textbook, says: "Had better, had best, had rather are entirely grammatical and fully approved by good usage."

Also correct are, "would better, would rather, would best."

Q. Is it correct to say, "He behaved in an underhanded manner?"

A. No. "Handed" means "having hands." Correct: He behaved in an underhanded manner.

World Events Analyzed

BY LESLIE BAIN

Japanese defense strategy of recent weeks revealed considerable weakness, but there are good reasons to believe that Japan deliberately is husbanding her strength for the coming land battles. Superficially evaluated, the lambasting Japan's navy and air force has been getting without as much as a show of real opposition may lead to the too obvious conclusions that Japan is finished. Nothing can be farther from the truth.

Apparently, the Japs in their plan for defense of the empire decided to use first the cheapest and most abundant weapon: manpower. Suicide garrisons, not too well equipped, are scattered on thousands of Pacific islands for the purpose of slowing down the Allies as well as to define our line of approach. While Japan is short of mechanized weapons, planes, tanks and heavy artillery, she has a huge land army of approximately thirteen million troops together with some five million irregulars recruited in the Dutch islands, Malaya, Siam, Indo-China, Manchuria and the Philippines. Only 15 per cent of these eighteen million men can be classified as first-class troops; the rest is plain cannon fodder. All the same, they can be used as suicide garrisons, for they are all imbued with the peculiar, primitive, frenzied fanaticism which enables them to fight on against hopeless odds.

—JAPS PLAN DEFENSE—

Obviously, the Japanese are preparing for the inevitable Allied invasion of the Asiatic continent. All signs point to a Japanese defense strategy which calls for slow retreats until Allied armies are actually on Asiatic soil, then the Japanese navy's task will be to harass our over-extended supply lines. That is one reason why they have consistently refused to come out and fight our navy, the other being the fact that Allied naval superiority is so high that an old-fashioned slugging match would be bound to end in a serious weakening of the Japanese navy.

Also, it is becoming increasingly evident that Japan is unwilling to risk a large part of her air force in the defense of the Pacific outposts. However, it is wishful thinking to say that Japan's air force is already eliminated. By all accounts, Japan still has a first class air force consisting mostly of fighters and dive-bombers, which she intends to use against our invading forces. With all Japan at this time is well prepared to meet the Allied invasion threat. And of course, they know as well as we do that without an invasion of China and Japan proper, the war in the Far East cannot end.

The allied strategy has become increasingly clear through our recent naval, air and land offensives. We are aiming at the Philippines and the China coasts. At the moment, we have no bases in the Pacific from which to attack the Japanese empire. Before we can mount our guns, we need gun platforms; before we launch an invasion, we need marshalling yards for our forces. Thus, our task is to acquire bases from which to operate against the enemy.

—WON'T CATCH US NAPPING—

But if the Japanese count on our walking into a well-prepared trap, they are in for a rude awakening. Our high command is well aware of Japan's fighter plane strength and will not risk an all-out offensive before that force is destroyed. If we use the strategic pattern established in Europe, then large-scale bombing attacks will be carried out against Japan in order to force their fighters out of hiding. Over Germany in six months' time we shot half of the Luftwaffe's first line planes out of the sky by forcing them to battle our raiders. It is likely that the same method will be followed against Japan.

Owing to the great distances involved, our supply problems will be tremendous, even if the Russian bases are put at our disposal—(a very likely eventuality)—our ships still will have to travel 5,000 miles to reach the theater of operations. The Japanese strategists are counting heavily on raiding our convoys with superior force, thus making the invasion of the empire costly, if not impossible. However, the Japanese military leaders aren't as sure of the efficacy of their defense plan as they used to be. Admiral Mitscher's Task Force 58 gave them a demonstration of the tremendous wallop our carriers can deliver against surface ships and defense installations. Therefore, it is not altogether impossible that as our relentless march toward Japan gathers momentum the Japanese leaders will decide to sue for peace, rather than have their country destroyed.

Wrong: "We bought a second-handed car."

Right: We bought a second-hand car. Poor: "The children went barefooted."

Better: The children went barefoot. (Remember Whittier's "Barefoot boy, with cheeks of tan"?)

Note. Correct. Empty-handed; bare-headed; barefaced; barehanded.

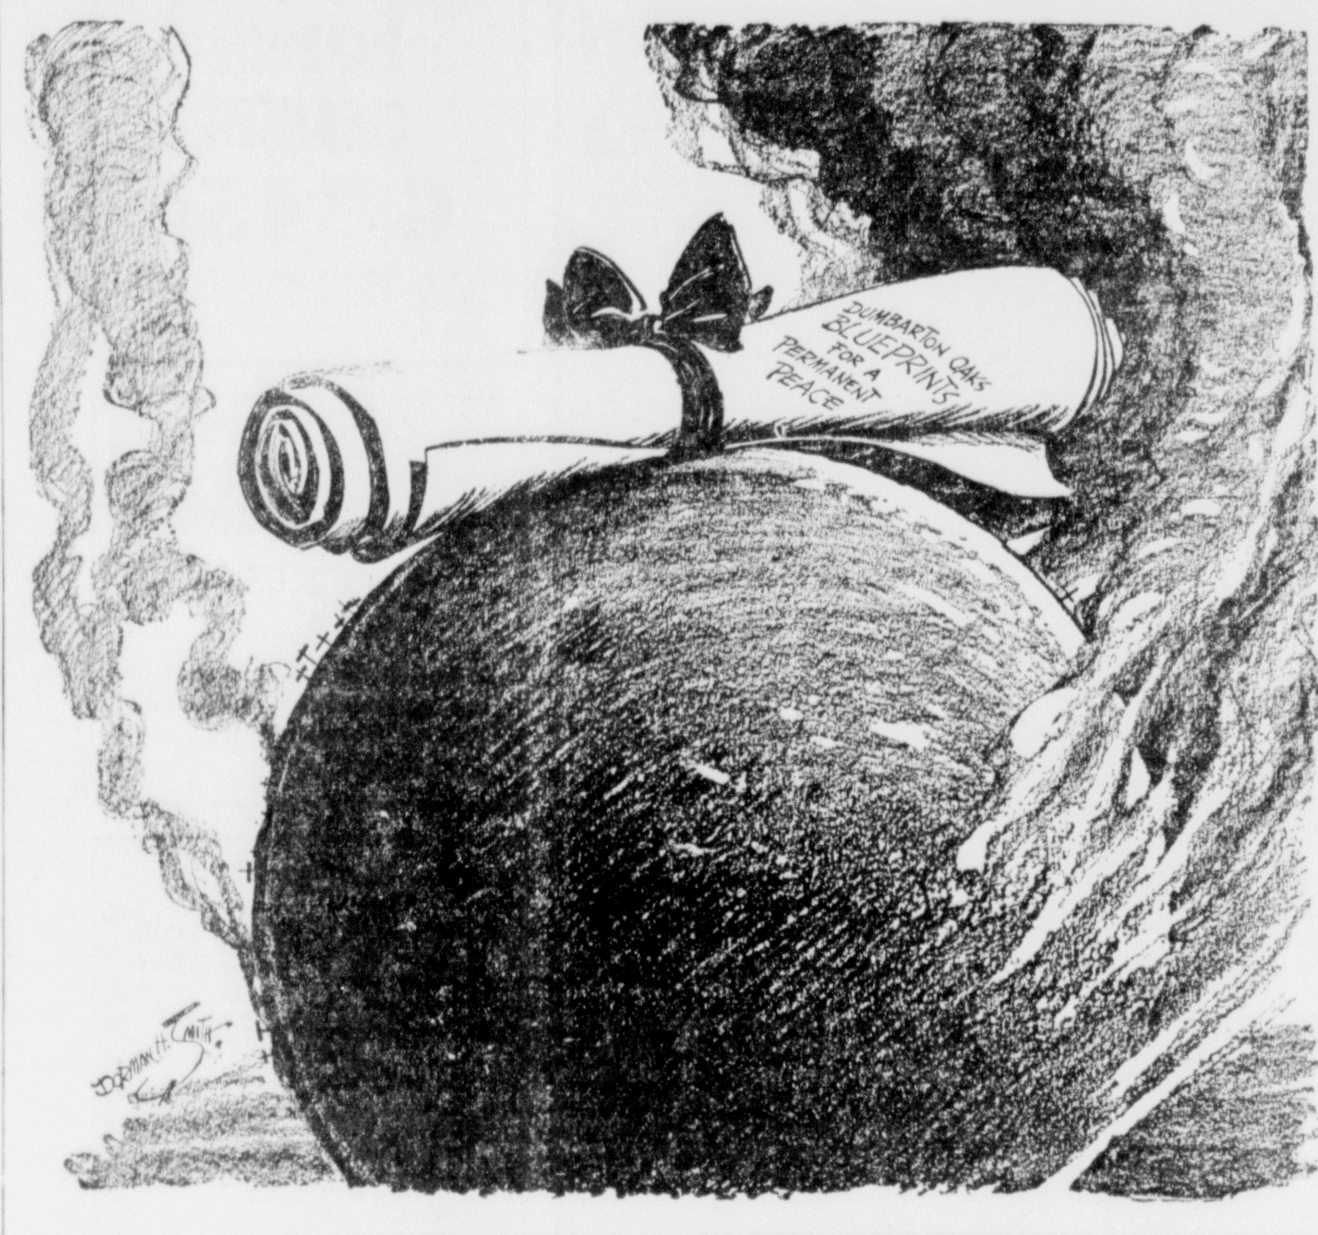

GELENKIRCHEN, fortified German town 12 miles north of Aachen. The "ch" is fricative, as in "ich, dieh." Say: GY-ten-KEER-(ch)-un.

SCHELDE, important river which flows in Aisne ("en" province, France, rises through western Belgium, thence through southwestern Holland to North Sea. When spelled "Schelde," the "ch" is fricative, as in "ach," thus: SCH-EL-uh. The Anglicized form, Scheldt, is easier to pronounce. Say: skelt. The river in France is called Escaut, pronounced: ess-ROE.

Thumbnail Lesson in Dutch and German. The vowel "e" in Dutch and German is "ay" when long, and "eh" when short. But note carefully: when "e" is final, or when followed by "l, n" or "r" in final syllables, it is an obscured vowel (uh) like the "a" of "sofa."

Therefore, Cleve is: KLAY-uh; Wesel is: VAY-zul; Aachen is: AH-(ch)-un.

First Things Come First

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

ENTERTAINING—With the approach of election day is will surprise no one if Charlie McCarthy, he of the wooden head and impish personality, does not come out for one or the other of the presidential candidates — just about everyone else in the entertainment field has.

It was to be expected, of course, that after Bing Crosby voiced his admiration for Dewey there was nothing left for Frank (the voice) Sinatra to do but sing out for Roosevelt. It would be interesting to know what the Swoon Crooner and the President had to say to each other when they met in the White House. Frankly, it tickles the imagination to ponder what in thunder they would have for a conversational topic — unless it were a discussion of radio technique.

Now also we are treated to the sight of author Clarence Budington Kelland stumping the campaign trail for Dewey and Brick-er, while author Quentin Reynolds brings his voice and pen into play for Roosevelt and Truman.

When the world of arts and entertainment takes its politics seriously enough to spend its own time and money on such things, all is not lost. It gives the lie to the once-happy sweeping statements that Hollywood is overcrowded with New Dealers. It's pleasant to find the pen and grease-paint people are just like other folks, holding independent opinions and willing to quarrel with each other over politics.

LIVING MEMORIALS — When Escanaba gets around to thinking of memorials for its servicemen, even if the Russian bases are put at our disposal—(a very likely eventuality)—our ships still will have to travel 5,000 miles to reach the theater of operations. The Japanese strategists are counting heavily on raiding our convoys with superior force, thus making the invasion of the empire costly, if not impossible. However, the Japanese military leaders aren't as sure of the efficacy of their defense plan as they used to be. Admiral Mitscher's Task Force 58 gave them a demonstration of the tremendous wallop our carriers can deliver against surface ships and defense installations. Therefore, it is not altogether impossible that as our relentless march toward Japan gathers momentum the Japanese leaders will decide to sue for peace, rather than have their country destroyed.

The day of erecting the traditional tablet-bearing shaft, mausoleums or bronze shafts is a thing of the past. While they may be impressive in appearance they cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be considered as useful to the community.

Many cities already have considered the possibility of creating "living memorials" after the war, including community centers, auditoriums and recreation parks. Escanaba might very well place on such a "living memorial" list some of the projects previously proposed, or new ones which might suggest themselves. There could be, for instance, the construction of a Memorial Live through Ludington Park, erection of a memorial bandshell and outdoor stage in Ludington Park, the boulevarding of a block or more of Ludington street near the bay shore, construction of a new city service center combining a city hall and court house.

GOOD BUSINESS — There are many persons in the Upper Peninsula who may have the impression that the U. P. Development Bureau is an effective promotion organization—but a trifle slipshod in handling its finances. The latter is farthest from the truth. In fact it watches its pennies more closely than many a small businessman. It is prepared at any time to present a complete financial picture.

The U. P. Development Bureau's recent report by its treasurer, C. J. McCauley, shows that its gross receipts for the past fiscal year totaled $36,734.26—and that as of September 30 there was $4,461.07 left over as reserve after all obligations were paid.

While some of us have been critical of certain Development Bureau policies the Barker once went to bat for better-written and more up-to-date descriptive copy in the Lure Book) it is reassuring.

Over near Ontonagon, when the newspaper editors were enjoying a rain-soaked view of the Porcupine Mountains, one of them took a look at George Bishop's mighty frame and popped with the idea that he resembled . . . of the major peaks in the Porcupine Mountains. His suggestion that the name Bishop Peak be given one of the mountains caught on with the others. They went home and wrote about it. The other day it was incorporated in a resolution adopted by the Development Bureau directors.

Into The Past

10 Years Ago—1934

Newberry—The Newberry Lumber and Chemical company has resumed the manufacture of charcoal, acetate of lime and wood alcohol after being closed down several months. P. S. Hamilton, local superintendent, reports there is a good sale of alcohol and charcoal, making it possible for the chemical plant to operate, but the market for acetate of lime is poor. Reports have been received here that an enthusiastic reception was accorded Mrs. John A. Seimer, gifted soloist, of this city, in her appearance before the Federated clubs assembled in convention in Grand Rapids.

As a sideline for his work at Northwestern University, where he is in his third year, Robert McIntyre of Escanaba, has been working on a recreational project under the FERA, and has been arranging data on automobile deaths to juveniles.

20 Years Ago—1924

Martin Witte, of Schaffer, was shot through the abdomen early yesterday morning when he resisted attempts of bandits who stopped his car on the Portage bridge, a half mile south of the city. The holdup men flagged Witte down, begged a quantity of gasoline and then flourished a revolver and demanded money. In the ensuing scuffle the weapon was discharged.

25 Years Ago—1919

Street gangs are again making themselves obnoxious to the decent women of the town who are compelled to run the gauntlet of cross fire remarks between the bright boys who are adorned with $60 suits of clothes, endowed with a dime's worth of brains and are absolutely without the commonest signs of decency or breeding. City Engineer Walter Hodson in discussing the proposed plumbing code explained yesterday that some misunderstanding exists relative to certain provisions of the code. Appointment of a plumbing inspector to be paid by the city is not part of the code. There is a state law requiring appointment of such an officer, and the city of Escanaba has been merely ignoring that feature of the law.

to find that Bureau business is being handled efficiently. No organization, you know, can do a completely good job with a ghostly deficit haunting its financial house.

BISHOP PEAK—Speaking of the Development Bureau always brings to mind George Bishop of Marquette, who has a voice like thunder and a capacity for promotion that would make a national political chairman look like a two-bit Hollywood press agent.

But peculiarly, George's promotion capacity finally has caught up with him. The tables have been turned. He is to be the center of a publicity stunt instead of standing behind the scenes pulling the strings.

It started three years ago, in the fall of 1941 shortly before Pearl Harbor. Recreation and resort editors of nearly a score of Midwestern newspapers were on a Development Bureau-sponsored "color tour" of the U. P., a tour designed to sell them on the worthy idea that this Northern Michigan land of ours is lovely place to come when the leaves are changing color.

Over near Ontonagon, when the newspaper editors were enjoying a rain-soaked view of the Porcupine Mountains, one of them took a look at George Bishop's mighty frame and popped with the idea that he resembled . . . of the major peaks in the Porcupine Mountains. His suggestion that the name Bishop Peak be given one of the mountains caught on with the others. They went home and wrote about it. The other day it was incorporated in a resolution adopted by the Development Bureau directors.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—Governor Dewey's advisers think he has a unique opportunity in his Pittsburgh speech to win over a slice of the Labor vote.

The speech will attempt to take advantage of the increased disaffection among steel and coal workers in crucial Pennsylvania, the latter group being worked on by John L. Lewis, the former group sore because of the delay in increasing the price of steel wages.

The President is very much on the spot in regard to steel wages because for nearly a year the War Labor Board has held up the issue, is only handing it to him now on the eve of election.

Dewey's speech has been drafted in part by a former organizer for the CIO Steel Worker's Union, shrewd Mel Petzel, former Socialist, who knows the situation from A to Z. Petzel, now Labor editor for McGraw-Hill's "Business Week," has been closeted on the eleventh floor of the Devitt Clinton hotel in Albany all week working with a research staff to whip the Pittsburgh speech into shape. It was Petzel who wrote the Seattle Labor speech, which clicked on the West Coast.

NOTE—White House intimates say there is no chance of FDR raising steel wages on the eve of the election, but that the facts will be examined after election in the light of peacetime reconversion.

—ARTILLERY SUPPORT A PROBLEM—
The row between the two General Smiths on the island of Saipan is not dead yet, is now having repercussions on the island of Peleliu, where U. S. troops are still having a tough time.

The issue on Saipan was partly one of field artillery and sufficient preparation before infantry attacks on the enemy. Major General Ralph Smith of the Army wanted to save his men, wait for artillery to pound the enemy's lines, then advance. Marine Lieut. General Holland Smith followed the motto that the Marines could go in anywhere.

The Navy backed up the Marine Corps general, but after the Army's Smith was transferred, the Army backed him up too. He was given a division in France.

Now, without any personal bickering, the same problem of sufficient artillery is reported to be causing trouble—and casualties—on other Pacific islands. When troops first land, warships ashore can supply plenty of artillery. But after the troops land, it is dangerous for the warships to keep firing for fear of hitting our own men. So for a time the landing parties have to fight with nothing more than machine guns and tank artillery.

Even after they land and are established, however, a lot of criticism has floated back about lack of adequate artillery. Some military men feel that this is one reason for the very high casualties on the Pacific islands. Another reason, of course, is Japanese determination to fight until they die.

—LAME-DUCK DIES—
Lame Duck Congressman Martin Dies may do well practicing law back in Orange, Texas, but he's a long way from being the hero in the rest of Texas.

Strongest demonstration against Dies came at the knock-down, drag-out Democratic State Convention, which uprooted the anti-Roosevelt electors headed by Jess H. Jones' nephew, George Butler, replacing it with a delegation of sworn Roosevelt supporters.

Butler arranged for Dies to be present, planned to have the bull-voiced Texas "Sherlock Holmes," oppose the Roosevelt forces with a long Red-baiting speech on "Bolshevism in the Nation's Capitol Under FDR." However, when Butler called Dies to the platform, the crowd booed him.

Dies was the only man at the convention to be booed off the stage. Dies stood there, listened to the hooting for ten minutes, finally shrugged his shoulders and sheepishly walked off the stage.

Next rebuff given Dies resulted from an effort on the part of Governor Coke Stevenson's cronies to make Dies a regent of the University of Texas. However, Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president of the university, threatened to raise so much can if Dies were designated a regent that the move has now about been squelched.

NOTE—Several years ago, Dies called the university a "hotbed of Communism," because one college teacher ten years before had belonged to an organization which Dies disapproved. Dr. Rainey demanded that Dies produce proof or withdraw the charges. So Dies finally sent a letter giving the university a clean bill of health.

—FM RADIO BROADCASTING—

Testifying before the Federal Communications Commission regarding post-war radio frequencies, J. E. Brown of the Zenith Radio Corporation warned that changing the frequencies for frequency-modulation broadcasting would make the manufacture of FM receiving sets considerably more expensive. He spoke first in terms of one or two dollars' additional cost, then remarked that the public would pay "fifteen or twenty dollars more per set."

FCC Counsel Charley Denny pricked up his ears. "I thought you said the added cost would be just a dollar or two," he said.

"Oh, that's for the manufacturer," Brown explained. "You multiply it four or five times for the public."

Nursing a grudge makes it grow worse and worse!

Secret engagements are the ones you hear the most about.

Billions Of Silvery Fish--But No Smelt!

Time was when billions of silvery fish in Little Bay de Noc were the signal for a smelt carnival in Escanaba. Now it is the occasion for doubt and wonderment—and an honest desire to determine whether it is the real Osmerus mordax of blessed memory or just the common or garden variety of minnow.

A few weeks ago Roy Jensen of the Hansen & Jensen Fish Market and commercial fishermen down at the fishermen's slip on the bay shore were electrified to see the water alive with silvery little fish.

If they were baby smelt, they reasoned, then the biggest smelt run of all time was headed for Escanaba in the spring of 1945.

So a few of the minnows were dipped from the water, examined and then immersed in alcohol in a bottle and shipped to Dr. John Van Oosten, Ann Arbor, investigator for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Dr. Van Oosten on a recent visit to Escanaba says he still the other ichthyologists are still at loss to determine the cause of the smelt's disappearance.

After a wait back came a report on the minnow samples that had been sent to Ann Arbor. They had been examined at the University of Michigan laboratories by a Dr. Bailey.

They were, according to the scientific name, Notropis Deltoideus Stramineus—words about twice as long as the minnow. Their common name is Sand Shiner. And they are not smelt.

The Sand Shiner has been reported before in Green Bay waters and is not unusual except when they are found in the vast numbers now frequenting the bay. They are widely distributed in Michigan waters.

The Roving Reporter

over a shore line of several miles pinioned us in their white shafts as we sat there as naked as babies and just as scared. I would have been glad to hawl like one of them would have helped for this searchlight business meant the enemy had us on the block. We not only were discovered, we were caught in a funnel from which there was no escaping.

We couldn't possibly move fast enough to run out of their beams. We were within simple and easy gunning distance. We were a sitting duck. We were stuck on the end of five merciless poles of light. We were utterly helpless.

"When that fifth searchlight stopped on us all my children became orphans," one of the officers said later.

Another one said, "The straw that broke my back was when the anchor went down. The chain made so much noise you could have heard it in Rome."

A third one said, "The fellow standing next to me was breathing so hard I couldn't hear the anchor go down. Then I realized there wasn't anybody standing next to me."

We got all set to shoot at the lights but then we waited. Our Admiral decided there was some possibility they couldn't see us through the slight haze, although he was at a loss to explain why all five lights stopped on us if they couldn't see us.

We had three alternatives—to start shooting and thus compel return fire; to up anchor and run for it; or to sit quiet like a mouse and wait in terror. We did the latter.

I don't know how long the five lights were on us. It seemed like hours. It may have been five minutes. At any rate at the end of some unbelievably long time one of them suddenly blinked out. Then one by one, seemingly erratically and with no purpose in mind, the others went out, too. The last one held us a long time as though playing with us. Then it too went out and we were once again alone in the blessed darkness. Not a shot had been fired.

Assault boats had been speeding past us all the time and a few minutes later they hit the beach. The searchlights flashed on again but from then on they were busy fanning the beach itself. It didn't take our attacking troops long to shoot the lights out from close range.

I'm not sure some of them weren't just turned out and left off for good. We've never yet found out for sure why Italian big guns on the shore didn't let us have it. Several of us inquired around when we got ashore after daylight. We never found the searchlight men themselves, but from other Italian soldiers and citizens of the town we learned that the people ashore were so scared at whatever was about to attack them from out there on the water that they were afraid to start anything.

I guess I'm always going to have to love the Italians for anybody else behind those searchlights and guns that night and we of this ship would be telling our searchlight yarn to St. Peter by now.

Scouters Training Session Held; To Promote Cub Packs

A training session of troop committeemen of Troop 446, Bark River, was held Wednesday afternoon with Committeemen Roy Bergman, Ben Douglas, Scoutmaster Ray Raymond, and Assistant John Barr Jr., attending.

The one hour session consisted of explaining the responsibilities and duties of the troop committee as a whole and individually, with the thought in mind of each committeeman, that if he knew exactly what his duties and responsibilities were with relation to his troop, a much better job could be done.

Exact problems of the troop were used in this session by way of further enlightenment of duties, such as special activities, camping, raising of funds for troop use, leadership, etc. This was the first troop committeemen training session held this fall, other meetings of this nature will be held in each locality in the near future.

After the survey is completed leaders will make the necessary contacts by way of enrolling new members and acquainting parents with the Cubbing program. A definite Cubbing program has been drawn up by the Cubbers for the coming months.

Those in attendance were: Berthel Erickson, Cubmaster, Mrs. Dan Leveque and Mrs. Albert Johnson, Den Mothers, Henry Boyle and Albert Johnson, Cub committeemen.

ABSENT VOTERS TO SET RECORD

509 Servicemen And 204 Civilian Ballots Are Mailed

A total of 713 absent voters ballots for the November 7 election have been issued by City Clerk Carl E. Anderson to yesterday, and of the total 509 were to servicemen and women from the city now in the armed forces of the United States. The remaining 204 were issued to civilians.

The large number of applications for absent voters ballots is a record for the city of Escanaba, the city clerk reported. Ballots have been mailed to servicemen in all war areas of the world. Applications were in the majority made on forms which were supplied by Michigan servicemen by the secretary of state's office under the soldier vote law adopted at the special session of the Michigan legislature.

Some applications, however, were on other forms approved by the state, and others were simply letters from the servicemen to relatives or to the city clerk asking for ballots.

Absent voters ballots already are coming back to the clerk's office to be opened and counted in the November 7 tally. So far there have been 329 of the 509 servicemen's ballots returned, and 78 of the 204 civilian applications.

Applications for absent voters ballots will continue to be received at the city clerk's office until three days before election.

Servicemen now home on leave may vote absent voters ballots in person on application at the city clerk's office. The ballots will then be sealed until election day.

Approximately 3,800,000 new radio sets were sold in the United States in a single year prior to the war.

WASTE PAPER DRIVE PLANNED

120 Tons Have Already Been Collected
In Escanaba

Don't throw away your waste paper. There's another drive soon to start and Escanaba school children will collect it to help out in relieving the critical wartime paper shortage.

John Lemmer, Escanaba superintendent of schools, yesterday said that since Pearl Harbor a total of 120 tons, or about 10 carloads of waste paper, have been collected in Escanaba by the boys and girls.

Nineteen tons were collected in the last drive. Right now there is a period when housewives—and their families—are urged to save scrap paper for the coming collection. The paper should be securely tied (a cardboard box is good to place loose paper in) and then stored away for the collectors.

J. A. Krug, chairman of the War Production board, yesterday appealed for new efforts in the saving and collection of waste paper.

More than one million boys and girls of the "Paper Troops" are the foundation for the national campaign to salvage household waste paper. By their efforts there can be assured a continuous flow of waste paper for the duration.

Through the Paper Trooper program the children are expected to receive official recognition for their work in collecting millions of tons of waste paper each year.

Mrs. Olson and
Alfred Dahlin
Wed In Norway

At a pretty fall wedding, solemnized Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in the parsonage of the Lutheran church at Norway, Mrs. Minnie Olson of Bark River became the bride of Alfred Dahlin, also of that community.

The vows were spoken before Rev. Mr. Peterson, and the couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Dahl of Bark River, lifelong friends.

The bride wore a gown of soft blue with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Dahl wore a gown of medium blue with black accessories and she also had a corsage of roses. Following the ceremony, a six o'clock dinner was served to twenty-five guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Iversen of Bark River. Table appointments were in blue and silver with a floral centerpiece of asters and gladioli. Mrs. Iversen is a daughter of Mrs. Dahlin. In the evening a reception and a wedding dance were held at the community building.

Wedding Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Dahlin left on a trip to Chicago, Lansing and Detroit, the bride wearing a brown ensemble for traveling. They will make their home in Bark River where Mr. Dahlin is employed.

Miss Lois Olson, of Lansing, daughter of Mrs. Dahlin, was among guests at the wedding.

Concert Sunday
At Bark River

The Wesley choir of Trinity church of Iron Mountain, an organization of twenty-five voices, will give a concert Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church in Bark River. The public is cordially invited.

Worry Clinic

With Case Records Of
A Psychologist

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-274: At the age of 16, I was elected president of the young people's society in a leading church at Ft. Wayne, Indiana. I took my duties seriously, for as an oldest child and rather introverted, I was already accustomed to taking on responsibilities and looking for definite evidences of accomplishment.

So I wished to see our society increase its membership. I wanted the Sunday night meetings to be more interesting, so we could attract bigger crowds.

We high schoolers didn't have much knowledge of public speaking techniques, and most of the members were so shy they had to be high pressured into leading the meeting when it came their turn.

The church paper for young people was available to us, but it was full of generalized philosophical discourses by eminent clergy men. After you read what they said, you still had received hardly a single idea of a specific sort for actually making the meeting more interesting.

Young People Want Specificity
We young folks were eager and hungry for definite ideas that we could put to work.

I bought a couple of recommended volumes from the central office of this church and also got a copy of Robert's Rules of Order. The latter was the only worthwhile book of the lot.

Then I went to a couple of summer institutes for young people, thinking I would receive some aid there. I obtained very little, for the teachers were typical brain trusters, dealing in generalities whereas we young people wanted specific techniques or formulae.

Give Youth Specific Formulae
These religious educational teachers, however, were no worse than the other college professors of that day. Many of whom are still up in the clouds even in 1944, and so far removed from life as it is actually lived, as to render time in their classes almost a total loss to the pupils.

Americans want concrete helps for immediate use. They wish formulae for becoming interesting conversationalists.

They like rating scales for boy friends and girl friends, by which they can check off their good and bad points.

They want a formula for a good speech that is sure-fire and fool-proof. If they are teaching a Sunday School class, they like instruction in how to prepare popular quizzes of the True-False or the Multiple Choice variety, whereby the pupils are enticed into cooperating, even if they don't know the answers.

They enjoy Analogy problems, plus Matching problems, Check-Off quizzes and the like, which are so attractive that they can be regarded as games, even though they are serious classroom examinations.

Loose Talk vs. Factual Data
There has been far too much glib talk in the churches. Young people are not greatly impressed by oratorical platitudes about "Demon Rum."

You can influence them much better by showing the narcotic or anesthetic influence of alcohol, with its slowing down of movement and thought.

Wise salesmen have long realized that beautiful generalities will not produce productive salesmen. You must teach your crew of salesmen the specific answers to the specific objections the customer will raise.

Then these specific answers must be memorized until they can be used instantly, nonchalantly and smoothly.

"Is there really a God?" ask your youth. Give them the logical proof which I have outlined several times previously in this column.

If you wish my bulletin on "How to Pep Up Church Attendance," send a 3c stamped envelope, plus a dime. It contains specificity!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing or printing costs when you seek personal advice or one of his psychological charts.)

Grace R. Jackson
Is the Bride of Herbert Porath

Autumn flowers decorated the Mission church of Bark River for the wedding Thursday afternoon, October 12, of Grace Rachel Jackson, of Bark River, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackson of 11428 Goethe, Detroit, and Herbert Gilbert Porath, of Bark River, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porath of Schaffer.

The service was solemnized at three o'clock by Rev. Erwin Hanson. Miss Audrey Bruce sang "I Love You Truly" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and Mrs. Elmer C. Stenberg played the bridal marches.

Miss Georgia Jackson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Ernest Porath was bridesmaid, and Janie Lund, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Carl Hahn, the bride's uncle, served as best man, and Ernest Porath, the bridegroom's brother, ushered.

The bride wore a gown of white sheer rayon with a fingertip veil attached to a crown of beaded pearls and she carried white mums and pink roses. The maid of honor wore pink and the bridesmaid, aqua blue, and their bouquets were of mixed flowers. The flower girl's floor length frock was of yellow and she carried a basket of pink mums.

Mrs. Jackson, mother of the bride, wore a jersey floral print and a corsage of gladioli.

Wedding Supper
A wedding supper was served to forty-five guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Olson. Decorations were in pink and white, a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple, centering the table, with white tapers, pink and white flowers and white wedding bells arranged at either side. The couple will live in Bark River.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lund, of Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackson and daughter, Georgia, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Lennart Stenberg and son, Carl, Miss Eleanor Porath, Miss Joyce Carlson, Mrs. Anna Carlson and Mrs. Arthur Jackson and daughter, Anita, of Escanaba; Miss Audrey Bruce, of Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. B. Hahn, of Wilson, and Rev. and Mrs. Hanson, of Powers.

Control Of Lake Level Urged By County Residents

A petition to the Michigan Department of Conservation for action to control the level of Indian Lake, recently adopted by the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors, has been endorsed by the Manistique Lions club and a number of interested county residents. It has been learned.

The petition outlines the fact that a dam designed to control the lake level has been maintained for nearly 20 years by the Manistique Pulp and Paper company, but that the dam no longer is in operation. The petition requests the conservation department to repair the dam and to control both the high and low water levels of Indian Lake.

COUNTY PAPER DRIVE PLANNED

Salvage Campaign Will Be Held Within A Month

Another county-wide paper salvage collection will be made under the direction of the City of Manistique within the next month, Charles Manson, city manager, has announced.

Details of the collection are now being arranged and probably will be announced within a week. A house to house canvass will be made throughout the county through the assistance of grade school youngsters who will be enlisted as "Paper Troopers."

The city paper collection has been maintained on a weekly basis by workmen of the city, but this has not been on a house to house basis except on special salvage campaigns.

The salvaged paper collected by the city has been donated to the Manistique public schools who have utilized the receipts for the school milk fund. The paper receipts amounted to approximately $100 last month.

The need for paper salvage is increasing with the enlargement of the war front. Salvaged paper is reconverted into containers used in the shipment of blood plasma, ammunition, etc. and is an essential war commodity.

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up quickly, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. SPUD GROWERS HEAR McLEOD

Always Fine Market For Good Potatoes, Says
Farm Agent

D. C. McLeod, of Valley City, North Dakota, agricultural agent of the Soo Line railroad, told Schoolcraft county potato growers at the first annual county potato show here Wednesday night that if they grow good quality, disease free potatoes, they need not worry about a market for their crop.

"There is always a lively market for quality potatoes," McLeod emphasized in his address which featured the banquet of the potato show at the high school gymnasium. The agricultural agent stressed the importance of strict control of certified seed in building a strong potato industry.

Land County Potatoes
McLeod reviewed the history of the potato industry in his home state of North Dakota and declared that North Dakota certified seed potatoes now have an established reputation for quality in the southern states. He explained that the North Dakota potato industry, growing mainly Bliss Triumph and Early Ohio varieties, is not in competition with the upper peninsula industry, since the Michigan potatoes are sold principally in markets where the Michigan potatoes are not sold.

Ernest Wheeler, Michigan State College potato specialist, lauded the quality of the potato samples displayed at the Schoolcraft county show. He declared that all of the samples were of top quality, and congratulated the Schoolcraft growers for an unusually fine production job.

Fred Hahne, treasurer of the potato boosters association, served as toastmaster at the banquet, substituting for Omer Schuster, who was ill.

Others on the speaking program included Joseph Heiman, county

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The spotlight in high school football circles this week will be on the Kingsford-Stambaugh game at the Flivver city Friday night. Kingsford is bidding high for Menominee range and U. P. titles. In the first of a series of three home games the Kingsford eleven is taking on probably their strongest opponent to date.

Stambaugh is out of the running for title honors, having won one game, lost one and tied one, but the Hilltoppers have a faculty of coming through in the clutch.

ORGANIZE HOME SERVICE CORPS

Class Of 16 Enrolled To Assist In Red Cross Work

Service facilities of the home service department of the local chapter of the Red Cross will be considerably expanded in Delta county as the result of a school of instruction now being conducted here. Miss Edna Swingle, home service field representative from the area headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., is conducting the school. Sixteen women have enrolled to date in the home service corps, and daily classes are being held in the Franklin school. The volunteers are undergoing intensive training in the four major functions of the home service department, and upon completion of the course a week from today, they will assist G. Z. Flanders, home service chairman, and will work from his office at Red Cross headquarters.

Although trained in their work, the home service corps will be an unpaid, volunteer group. Each member is pledged to devote at least 150 hours a year to home service work.

Members of the volunteer corps will receive 26 hours class work during the school. Six hours will be devoted to field trips and 18 hours in field work. Instead of actually making the field trips, the women have invited the heads of various county agencies to their classroom. Service facilities of the welfare department, the U. S. Employment service and other county units will be explained to the group to give them a picture of the resources of this area.

The four functions of the home service department include reporting service, communications and information service, which has to do with keeping civilians in touch with prisoners of war interned in foreign countries.

Family service deals with financial assistance to families of veterans, while claims and benefits service provides assistance in the filing of claims.

Following completion of the course next Friday, members of the class will receive their certificates. No definite schedule of hours will be imposed. The ladies will report to the home service office for assignment when they have leisure time for duty.

Buyer Attracted Here By Publicity On U. P. Potatoes

Julius Enklich, representative of the National Produce company of Chicago, has arrived in Escanaba for an extended stay to buy potatoes from the farmers in the Upper Peninsula district.

Mr. Enklich stated he was attracted to Escanaba by the widespread publicity given to the large yields of high quality potatoes in this district. In former years, he bought potatoes in Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Chicago buyer visited several farmers in the county, and reported he saw some of the finest potatoes he has ever seen.
